J. B. CROSS. On the 28th of October, the Mayor got home, and the News and Wisconsin announced that he had brought the money (smount stated at $50,-000) back with bim. A month has sluce elapsed and the whereabours of that money is not yet discovered. It has not been reported to the Council, it has not been accounted for to the City Treasurer, it has not been paid to the Contractors for the Harbon and School-House-,-Where, then, is it? Who has get it? Did the Mayor effect this loan, as his organ stated, at 12 per cent, for the uses of the city, and then appropriate the money to bis own use? Or did he borrow the money for himself, or the Juneau Bank, and represent that it was a loan for the city ? Constitution, &c., to-morrow. Swindline a Wonan, -On Sunday meening two men, who reside in this city, were arrested by policemen Kesler, on a charge of swindling, r more properly robbing, a woman named Christiana Rapp, of about $140. The The names of the men are John Felix, who, we believe, keeps a dance-house, and one Robert

Elbert. They are both now in jail awaiting an examination. The particulars of the effeir, as we learned them, are these :

Mrs. Rapp's busband having taken a fancy to omebody else' wife, deserted his legal " better half," and made tracks for the land of gold, or some other distant land, with the inconstant, woman, leaving some property here with his deserted wife, which she wished to dispose of, intending to leave the city; and requiring some one to assist her in so doing, she employed Felix, who had been a friend of her husband. It does not appear that he defrauded her of anything while thus employed; but it seems he accompanied her to Chicago when she was going away, and as she was about leaving that city, she gave him her urse, containing $140, to him to buy a her ticket. While he was getting the leaving her money behind. She did not come back after the money, supposing that Felix

HEAVY JUDGEMENT AGAINST THE CITY .-- The suit of Mr. Ggo. McWhonter against the City of Milwaukee, for injuries sustained by falling, at night, from a high bank, left by the graders of the Fifth: Ward, without any guard or light to warn passers-by of their danger, came off before Judge McARTHUR, at Waukesha, last week. Mr. McWhorran, who was, at the time, the Principal in the First Word School, sustained, by the fall, a severe fracture of the thigh, which will make him halt for life, and other very serious hurts, by which he was confined to his bed for ninetee weeks. The damages were laid at $15,000, and the Jury, after being out about half an hour, brought in a verdict for the defendant of Ten Thousand Dollars. The case was conducted by Messra. J. E. Arnold and N. J. Ermons, for the plaintiff, and by E. FOOTE, Corporation Attorney, for the city.

FIRST APPRARANCE OF THE KELLER TROUPE,-I his remarkable Troune, consisting of some sixty performers, male and female, made their first appearance in this city last evening, at the Metro-politan Theatre. There was a good house, though far short of what the entertainment deserved. The several tableaux vivants were admirably arranged and elicited the heartiest applause.-Nothing at all approaching them has ever been seen in our city. The costumes, attitudes, groupings, &c., were perfect. 1370m a Crocodile Tears.

The News has suddenly passed from an exultant to a lachrymose mood. Its abouts of victory have charged into the swallor defeat: And not satisfied with sceping over its own " killed and wounded," it has "tears to shed" for those of our Republican champions who have been struck down n the fight. It is especially moved at the pro-Bable defeat of our paliant and accomplished candidute for Lt. Governor, Carl Schurz. Hear where on this point:

Where is the eloquent and patriotic SCHURZ, who evinced more talent, and performed more effectual service, during the canvass, than all the other candidates of the black republican party? Large numbers of his countrymen were induced, through their admiration of his excellent qualities, to vote for him; and yet, despite cil this has follow the victim of that intoler. all this, he has fallen the victim of that intoler ant minds which pervades the party to which he, in ant spirit which pervades the party to which he, in an evil bong, attached himself.

So speaks the Veros since the election. But how did it talk about Mr. Schunz before? Why, then, this " eloquent and patriotic Schozz," was ienounced на an impostor, а make believe рыtriot a " presentions enthusiast, a " recklets agitator, a mon-citizen," without a single claim to the office of Lieutenant Governor, and whose principles were repudiated by his Garman citizens everywhere. Instead of " large numbers of his countrymen voting for him" the News then predicted that " the steady-minded German Democracy! were "not to be caught with such bhaff," and, indeed, it omitted no opportunity to dispayage and decry the gentleman whose possible defeat, it now affects to deplore So, too, of the other, unsuccessful candidates on the Republican ticket. The News has words of condolence for all of them, while it is lavish of abuse, as usual, towards the successful ones. But had the scale inclined the other way, and the winning candidates proved the losing ones, the accomodating and disinterested News would have been just as ready to give these its sympathy and

By the way, has the News no word of comfort of sorrow, for " the eloquent and patriotic" McGARRY, "-who evinced more talent and performed more service, during the canvass than all the other candidates" of the Sham Democracy, and " who has fallen a victim to that ntolerant spirit which pervades the party to which he, in an evil hour, attached himself?" What an ungrateful return in this defeat of Mc GARRY for the solid Irish vote which was cast for the Democratic ticket: "......

The Shanghal Crowing. We bleed on our bulletin board yesterday most sublime representation of a Shanghai, in the act of crowing. It was the production of an artist friend of the Madison Journal, which paper considers the election of RANDALL, HASTINGS. and MACGRAW assettled.

The poet of the Journal thus alludes to the exultant bird :

Ye Dunghill of the News has consed. ee peris had withe ye fatal pippe, And lyeth cold and low.

Hee was sendy, vulgar fowle; Hee crowed precoriously;

Are there were he reconounty; the crowed he reconounty; manufacturers to the series of the series of

"Thou hase-born birde" ye Shunghai said, hase left of sense no relick, That thus fidu durekt to crow over mee? For this Jul give you 'Aleck!' " and then ye Shanghai turned on him with soch a parkous looke, Ye pippe Sit in and y-rie soon hiys bodie life forsook:

Blumeson Election.

The St. Paul Times, of the last date received has a continuery of digures in relation to the lelection of Governor. 'On the official vote, Ramse, (Republican) has 58 majority, in a poll of 29,849 In 16 counties complete, but upoffinial, Ramsey has 589 majority, placing him 642 ahead.

The Times says:

In the above calculation, we have not included In the above calculation, we have not included returns from Cotton wood County, Davis County, Marray county, Marin county, Pierce county, Rock county, Renville county, Pembina county, and Cedu Lake Precinci, which give Sibley a grand majority of 1173. It these returns are allowed, (which bear in mind are fraudulent) Ramsey will be cheated out of his certificate by 532 votes. Have we in Walker among us? Let us wait and see. wait and see.

The democracy went into the Supplement business "with a perfect, looseness," following the example of the Wisconsin heroes of Gilbert's Mills, Town 25, Range 10, &c.

DISCUSTED .- The Boston Traveller, which was first for Bunks and then for Gardiner, and which after a careful capvass elected the latter by 18,-000 plurality before the election, has become disgusted with politics, and will hereafter main tain a nautral position.

FORTY-SEVEN STATES, The Boston Journal says :- Would one believe, without looking into it, that we are in a fair way of carrying the number of sovereign States, originally thirteen, now thirty-ope, up to 47.1. But so it is. In the first place, there are Oregon, Kausas and Minnesota, whose Constitutions are already formed or forming. It is hoped they will be admitted the coming winter, making the members of the confederacy thirty four. Then New Mexico, Nebraska and Washington, already thriving territories, will swell the aggregate to thirty-seven. information: ... The desire to buy Stocks is in no matter in The desire to buy Stocks is in no, matter, abated, and for the moment no one pretends that anything on the list is dear, or that the market has reached the lighest point. It is quite dertain that buyers for ready money are abundant, and that, in the face of sales by parties who are realizing darge profits, prices daily advance, each improvement bringing purchasers into the street. The each of the local money market is such, that brokers have offered more fixed, then they can use, and stras low rates as funds to an they can use, and at as 'low rates as four per, cent, per annum, upon sincety day loans. Another element which assists the rise, is the great confidence still existing with the public, as othe value of railway; property with it the re to the fatige of railway, property districted, ports of all the investigating committees, have not convinced people generally that railways are unproductive when properly managed. The reforms introduced have excited a new desire on the part of those who formerly owned this kind of property, to respond to the tattacture of those in duit confidence that the current rates, in duit confidence that the the direct of Movember. in duit confidence that made recomment management they will return to the prices of November, 1956, and pay hereafter their usual dividends. Buyers also urge that the late suspension of dillividends by the most popular loads of the West. This swept off the floating debts which oppressed them, and that in inture this depressing element will cease; and infinity earned dividends be regu-larly paid. NIAGARA SHIP CANAL.—The indefatigable Col. A Thrilling Account of the Disnater to An intelligent lad, a son of Solumon Freeman, Esq., ol Brooklyn, who is on board the Great Republic, has written to his parents the following thrilling account of the disaster which overlook that ship in doubling Cape Horn:

FALKLAND ISLANDS, Wednesday, Sept. 16. DEAR FATHER AND MOTHERS:—It is with thank-fulness to God that I am spared once more to pen you'd lew lines, after narrowly excepting shippen you a lew mes, me can. Last month, (the lith of anguet,) the ship Great kepublic left the Chinchs desiands for London: We made a Yory good run to Cape Horth; but when about three degrees: North of the Capejon the Pacific side, we experienced very heavy weather. On the alternoon before the accident, I was standing on the poop-deck, and the sea was rouning mountains

MILWAUKEE & BELOIT RAILHOAD.—The Elkhorn, Walworth Coubty, Independent, in an arrivative on the subject of railroads and their needs in these times, says, with regard to one of the enterprises in whose success we in this city are largely interested:

The Milwaykee and Beloit road is an enterprise imperatively demanded by the best interests of this country and tit ultimate completion is generally regarded as a fixed fact. The commany which, has undertaken its construction is desirous of preserving its credit in market, and the that life that merchant healy man their largely interested to the completion of the commany which, has undertaken its construction is desirous of preserving its credit in market, and the that life that merchant healy man their tarough the foom, but of the case door, awater in my room was five feet deep, completely soaking everything. The Captain's wife and niece were very much scared. The salions who have followed the scar for 15 or 20 years, say they never say such seas before.

When one sea would go down; it looked like a great vailoy live thousand feet deep, then it would vise again like a great mountain the same height, looking as though it would swallow us. I never want to see the like again. We were at this time running 16 and 17 knots per hour, under top-gallant-sails, and royal-staysnils, while some ships would be lying to under close reefed top-sails. At hight the sea did not abate. If went and turned in and took a nap, when at 2 blook in the morning, in the second mate's watch on deck, I heard him crying aloud, "the decks are stove! we are going to the bottom." I jumped up and went on deck, and saw our decks were store in, aid every sea we shipped was going up and went on deck, and saw our decks were stove in, aid every sea we shipped was going right into the ship's between decks, and would very soon sink us: the sea running all the time the same beight it had the previous afternoon. To add to the difficulty of our situation our mainsail and foresail was blown to tibbone, flapping as lottle as thunder. Our crochet sail had flow of the case were then running. The sea that stove in out other sails, except the topsails, under which we were then running. The sea that stove in out decks broke four large beams, and the combings of the night, hatch, by which we shipped about 500 time of water, which went down, mixing with the graino, and making us very heavy. bottoms of water, which went own, many, with the graino, and making us very heavy, could see we were sinking very low in the waser being deep loaded in the first place, and drawing 126 feet of water. I thought my time had come and so we all thought, indeed, the captain of the country of the country of the captain of the country of the captain of the joily-boats, but the boats' would not have lived one moment in such a sea; beside, we had but three oats to pull the four lile-boats with, the others being buried up in the guano, and no man would trust his life between decks, there was so much water there.

We took two large sails and nafied over the deck where it was stove, which kept out the water some. I was at the pumps all day an night, while others went between decks an right, while others went between decks and bailed out the warer, the sea running the same all the time. We were then about 250 miles from the nearest port, which was the Fakland Islands. We then headed the ship for then which brought the wind lair for us. Toward night the see went down a little and our hopes revived. All we were then afraid of was toe point giving way, because the water had mixed to water the gains absolute very heavy and up with the guano, becoming very heavy, and when the ship rolled from one side to the other the barreis, coal, logs of wood, do., rolled with it, bang, bang, from one side to the other, and we feared it would chafe the port lashings and we faired it would chafe the port lashings and cause them to give way; if so, she would have filled and sunk in two minutes time; it would not have given us time to turn round—but, thank God, they did not. When mixed with water grano is thick, like flour.

All our provisions were destroyed. Not a barrelot beet, bread, or any thing was saved; it was all scove to atoms, and mixed with the gunn. The third, day where, land was discovered.

passengers on board was prepared by the captain to throw overboard. Happily so terrible a califinity was averted.

In the midst of the unflinching courage displayed on every hand, shines still brighter the courage of a woman who was one of the passengers, the brighter, as it stands in contrast with the sheer cownratice of a craven-shouled man, who was aboard. That man was a Frembingan and not not have brought a burning blush of shame upon his checks if he was possessed of say manhood, stepped forward and voluntered to take his place. That woman's name was Miss E. Wissaka. The passengers, however, would not allow her to work. Her noble behavior upon this occasion wou for her the admiration and estem of every one on board, while the conduct of the Frenchman provoked just the opposite, and we should not have blamed the craw had they looked upon him as a second Jonah aboard their mobble craft.

All on board bear testimony to the gallant conduct of Osptain Flagg, who proved himself not only a thorough sailor, but a whole-goined nam.

That run, was made by depositors, notby the note-holders, and it stands justified, sofar as they are concerned, because of the well-grounded apprehonsion that the arrogant and coverbearing were about to crush out the really useful and liberal, and thus lock up, by premature receiverships, more than one-half the Beath of a Great Millionaire The London Times of the 2d inst. contains a long biographical notice of one of the "merchant princes" of the great Mêtropolis, who has had most extensive relations in this country. Mr. James Morrison, the eminent millionaire in question, died at his seat, Saadnon Park, on the 30th alt, aged 68, and worth $20,000,000, a considerable portion of which, it is atated by the Times, is invested in the United States, and so well invested too, that it suffers no diminution by the present commercial difficulties. Dr. Liviogstor, the celebrated African explorer, in a lecture which he delivered before the Chamber of Commerce in Birmingham, England, gave come valuable intormation. Among other remarks he said:—The country south of Lake urniture infilid house, as follows: "Five neutricular and majorase trying chairs, and training the property of the property and the one hours infollow. Milwanker, on the waterdown and dimensions applied to the property of Ngumi was comparatively storile; but little rain: fell, and consequently vegetation was acasty, and it was in lact of such a carrent character as to be uninhabitable for civilized people. When, howuninhabitable for civilized people. When, however, they came to the country north of this lake, shey found it abounding in deep, never-fulling rivers, flowing into one great stream called the Zambesi, which had its outlet in the Eastern Joean, whilst on the opposite side of the continent, to the north west, they lound another system of rivers, beeding a similar large arream, comprying itself on the wester, coset at Loamba. The tract through which there rivers passed was of course much more fertile, and a great variety of bearing fruits of a kind totally unknown to Europeans, flourished in all directions. On the western side was situated Angois, which was a Portuguese possession, and here the country was most prolific in its productions, though that fact would not be supposed when viewed from the see,, the coast being of no sterile a character.
